OUR ONE-YEAR STORY

year ago, in an elementary school cafetorium, a new church began in Amarillo!

Tradewind Community Church met for its first weekly worship service on September 8, 2019 – and since that day, God has continued to build His church for His glory.

TCC is a church plant of South Georgia Baptist Church in Amarillo. More than 30 members from SGBC's congregation were sent to start TCC following an 18-month church-planting process.

Why? TCC exists to proclaim the Gospel of Jesus, while seeking to serve and love people in the Tradewind neighborhood.

For Sunday gatherings, TCC rented space in Tradewind Elementary School, transforming the cafetorium into a worship center; classrooms and hallways became kids ministry areas. TCC is a "mobile church": All church equipment and supplies are loaded in and out each week.

After a three-month adjustment to provide online resources for worship at home during the coronavirus pandemic, TCC began meeting in the parking lot of the school on June 14, 2020, for outdoor church services.

Throughout the year, God has increased and encouraged His church!

Since September 2019, TCC has celebrated as 13 people have believed in the Gospel of Jesus and become Christians! The church has rejoiced in 13 baptisms and welcomed many new members. TCC is thankful for all that God has done!

As this one-year-old congregation enters its second year, TCC is expectant! What will God do through His church in the Tradewind community and beyond? The church is praying that many more would hear and believe in the Gospel of Jesus for the glory of God!
